JUNE 2025 PORTFOLIO PERFORMANCE

For the month of June, the total fund rose 3.7% net of fees, bringing the YTD return to 8.6%. The fund has returned 7.4% annually since 2015 and 8.1% annually since inception in 1993.

Global equities had a strong month, led by emerging markets and US stocks. Global small caps slightly outperformed large caps, and growth again outperformed value as measured by the Russell 3000. Bond markets also had positive performance as yields in most regions fell.

Market sentiment was generally positive. Investors became more sanguine about tax cuts and deregulation; another trade truce with China was agreed; a US-UK trade deal was signed; and expectations improved of progress in trade deals with other countries. Geopolitical risk in the Middle East was reduced after a successful Israeli-led air campaign to dismantle the threat of Iran's nuclear weapons program.

The MSCI ACWI returned 4.5% during the month. In the US, the S&P 500 returned 5.1%; Russell 2500 returned 4.6% during the month. Overseas, the MSCI EAFE index returned 2.2%, with emerging market stocks returning 6.0%.

Economic data were generally positive for the month, suggesting a stable or moderately slowing economy rather than an imminent recession. Headline inflation in the US rose 2.4% year-over-year in May but generally declined in the UK, the Eurozone and Japan. The US dollar weakened further in June.

As always, we truly appreciate your continued participation, especially during the continuing staff realignment at the Church Center.
