THE DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY
OF THE PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

FOUNDED 1821 ■ INCORPORATED 1846

To the members of the Episcopal Church:

We present the Trust Funds Book 2010. This book, issued annually, provides an update on the trust fund portfolio and investment activities of The Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of The Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America (the “Society” or “DFMS.”).

Investment markets worldwide recovered dramatically during 2010. The DFMS portfolio enjoyed +15.5% gain before fees, substantially exceeding its benchmark portfolio by +1.7%. Active management of the portfolio, which we believe is preferable to passive index funds, has enabled the portfolio to outperform its custom passive benchmark over the past three, five and ten years.

During 2010, 1 new trust was opened, adding nearly $400,322 in assets. We are thankful for the generosity of people and parishes that share their abundance to support the continuing work of God’s mission through the church.

We hope that this book will be a useful reference for you regarding the many trust funds that support the diverse ministries of our church.

Thank you for the opportunity to serve you and our church.

Faithfully,

N. Kurt Barnes
Treasurer

Investment Portfolio 2010

Structure of the Trust Fund Book

The Trust Fund Book is designed to provide information on the Investment Portfolio of the DFMS, its management, decision-making processes and performance. Part I profiles the Endowment Portfolio, which is comprised of approximately 1,037 trust funds and managed by 14 external investment managers at December 31, 2010. These funds are maintained in a common investment portfolio and participate on a pro-rata basis in all returns. These funds are overseen by the Office of the Treasurer under the direction of the Investment Committee. Part II provides information on the charitable funds which are separately managed. Part III details the Society's socially responsible programmatic investments.

Portfolio Composition

The investment portfolio of the Society consists of three parts:

1. Endowment funds (trust funds):
 - Funds owned, held and managed by DFMS and benefiting DFMS (Endowment)
 - Funds owned, held and managed by DFMS and benefiting other Episcopal/Anglican entities (trustee type)
 - Funds held and managed by DFMS but owned by and benefiting other Episcopal/Anglican entities (custodial type)
2. Charitable funds:
 - Pooled Income Fund (separately managed)
 - Charitable trusts, unitrusts and annuity trusts (each separately managed)
3. Programmatic investments:
 - Economic Justice Loan Fund (funds from Endowment)
 - Community Development Investment Program (funds from Endowment)
 - Minority Bank Deposit Program (funds from DFMS operating cash)

PART I: ENDOWMENT

Investment Objectives

The investment policy has been established to consider both the current and projected financial requirements of the Endowment. The desired investment objective is a long-term rate of return on assets that will generate earnings now and in future years to support the church's programs.

The central objective of the Endowment is to provide a sustainable and increasing level of income to support the current and future ministries of the Episcopal Church in accordance with the wishes of the donors or owners of those funds, while preserving the real (inflation-adjusted) purchasing power of the funds. To accomplish these goals, the Endowment must generate an average annual real total return (net of investment management fees and after inflation as measured by the CPI index) in excess of the endowment spending rate (which ordinarily ranges between 5% and 5½%) over the long-term, defined as rolling five-year periods.

Investment objectives should be achieved within acceptable risk levels, while avoiding large short-term declines in market value. Further, income yield (interest and dividends) should be sufficient in most periods to avoid the necessity of liquidating investments at an unfavorable time. Modest amounts of capital appreciation may be spent, however, to offset income shortfalls that may occur in unusual economic circumstances.

Since the endowment is essentially a perpetual investment portfolio, a higher degree of risk and volatility can be tolerated compared to a portfolio with shorter time horizons. This tolerance of risk and volatility, however, is limited by the need to provide a stable and growing cash flow to support the DFMS operating budget to avoid the necessity of liquidating investments at an unfavorable time.

The assets of the Endowment shall be invested in accordance with the objectives summarized below:

1. Maximize return within reasonable and prudent levels of risk of loss of principal.
2. Maintain sufficient liquidity to meet payment obligations on a timely basis.

Oversight of Assets

The responsibility for overseeing the assets resides with the Executive Council Investment Committee. In accordance with the Executive Council By-Laws, the Investment Committee has all the authority of the Council and Board of Directors of the Society under the law to act in the investment and reinvestment of institutional funds or assets of the Episcopal Church, the General Convention, the Council, and the Society, as well as any other funds or assets held by the foregoing for investment.

The responsibilities of the Investment Committee include:

- recommending and reviewing investment policies and objectives;
- selecting or removing, from time to time, the investment managers, custodians and other advisors for the investment and reinvestment of the Endowment;
- reallocating the assets among investment managers if the overall asset allocation policy limits have been exceeded, within the guidelines established;
- periodically evaluating, with the assistance of its investment consultant, the performance of the investment managers;
- reviewing and modifying the investment policy, when appropriate;

Asset Structure and Administrative Policies

The Endowment portfolios function similar to, but not exactly like, public mutual funds:

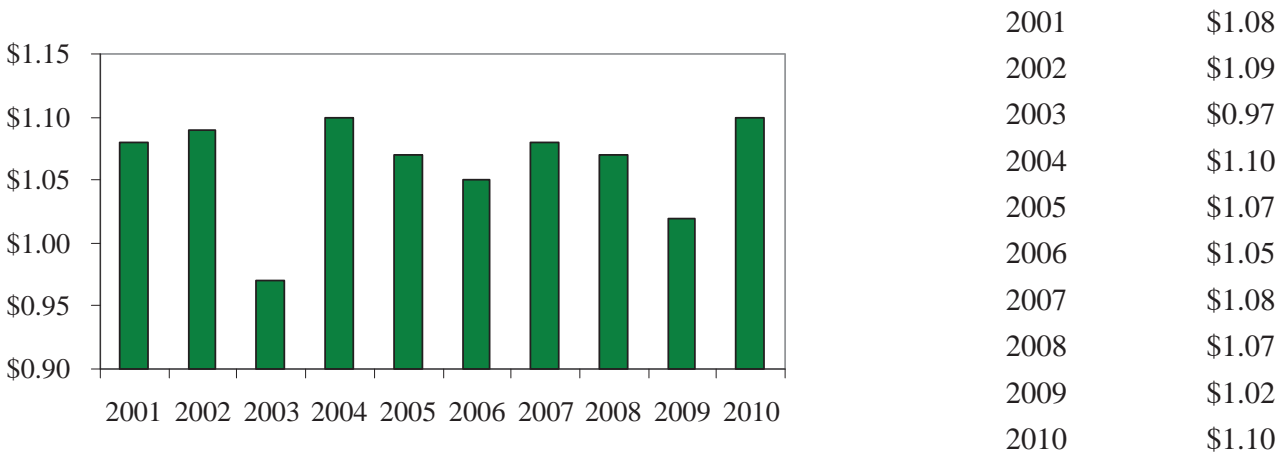

- Assets are consolidated or “pooled” for investment purposes and each trust fund in the Endowment portfolio holds a determined number of shares in the Endowment pool. The number of shares assigned to each trust fund changes when additions (usually gifts, contributions, or reinvested income distributions) and/or withdrawals (where permissible) are made.
- The value of a share fluctuates with the changing value of the underlying investments in the pool. At the end of each calendar quarter, the share value is determined by dividing the total market value of the portfolio by the number of shares in the portfolio.
- Investment management expenses are shared proportionately by all participants; DFMS does not impose any additional charge for its costs of administering the portfolio.
- In order to minimize transaction costs, funds are moved into and out of the portfolio once each quarter. While contributions to new or existing trust funds can be delivered to DFMS at any time, funds will only be invested with the money managers after the end of the calendar quarter during which the contribution is made.

Distribution Policy

Distributions from the invested funds are based on the two components of total return: yield and appreciation. A portion of the total return of those funds for which the Society is the beneficiary is distributed for current operating expenses. The distribution rate currently approximates 5.5% of a five-year rolling average market value per share. The payout set by Executive Council at $1.10 per share for 2010 provided operating income (restricted and unrestricted) of $9.5 million to the Society in 2010.

The Society aims to maintain a stable payout rate, though it may be adjusted periodically in response to changing capital market returns, inflation experience and other factors. If, in the judgment of the Investment Committee and the Treasurer, market performance will not support a 5.5% distribution and protect the real purchasing power of the Endowment, the Council may adjust the distribution in accordance with prudent fiduciary conduct.

Asset Allocation

The Investment Committee is guided by the philosophy, which is supported by analytical studies, that the asset classes selected, not the individual stocks or bonds selected, represents a significant determinant of long-term investment return. With the assistance of its investment consultant, Evaluation Associates, Inc., the Committee regularly reviews various asset allocations that will enable the Society achieve its long-term total return objectives while maintaining the lowest level of risk or variability of returns. In 2010, the Committee again concluded that the Society would be able to meet its spending goal of 5.5% and maintain the future purchasing power of the portfolio by continuing with the broad target portfolio asset allocation adopted in 2002.

Note: Market values above reflect the audited value of the assets held by the custodian (The Bank of New York Mellon) at 12/31/10 and may differ from values reported in the DFMS audited financial statements. The primary differences arise because the DFMS financial statements include adjustments arising from principal additions, withdrawals and income distributions with respect to the fourth quarter, which are made in January of the following year.

The Society regularly rebalances its portfolio to the asset mix established by the Investment Committee. It does not pursue a strategy of market timing.

Economy and Markets Review

The economic recovery that began in the summer of 2009 continued slowly in early 2010 but developed more consistently in the final months of the year. Consumer spending was much more favorable; and debt service as a percentage of income fell substantially, making more money available for consumer spending. In the business community, there is considerable pent-up demand, which should lead to an increase in capital spending. As businesses become more confident, we can expect to see faster-paced expansion efforts, increased equipment purchases, and additional hiring. A pick-up in job growth will be a clear indicator that the economy is toward stability.

High unemployment and low inflation prompted the US Federal Reserve to initiate a second round of quantitative easing (QE2) toward the end of 2010. Essentially, the Fed purchased securities to bring down long-term interest rates and spur more lending activity. That strategy could generate a greater risk of inflation over the long term; but with an unemployment rate of over 9% and inflation hovering near 1%, it may be some time before inflation becomes a larger concern than the overall state of the economy.

Equities

Despite persistent debate over whether the economic recovery was genuine, U.S. equities extended the 2009 rally, though at a slower pace and with more variability. From the March 2009 lows, both the Nasdaq and the Russell 2000 have more than doubled. The broader Standard & Poor's 500 was up 86% since March 2009; though it spent much of 2010 bouncing around within 100 points above or below the 1,115 at which it opened.

As has happened after previous recessions, small capitalization stocks led other domestic equities for most of the year. The Russell 2000, up 26.9% almost doubled the 15.1% gain of the S&P 500; the Russell's return of 16.3% in the last quarter alone almost equaled the entire 2010 gain of 18% for the tech-heavy Nasdaq. All U.S. equity indices looked robust compared to the MSCI All-Country World index, up +11.1%. Strong consumer demand in emerging markets continued to make them attractive in 2010. But considering the substantial market appreciation emerging markets have enjoyed over the last several years, it's wise to look for ways to reduce some of the risk.

Fixed Income

Despite the stock market rally, investors were not entirely comfortable with risk, so they poured money into bond mutual funds for much of the year. Bond market investors enjoyed stellar returns the last two years as liquidity and credit conditions improved from the financial crisis of 2008. Along with the Federal Reserve's determination to keep interest rates low, that helped send bond prices soaring despite massive issuance by corporations, local governments, and the U.S. Treasury.

Many investors remained concerned about the levels of U.S. debt levels and the potential for future inflation, but those concerns were modest compared to concerns about European debt, which nearly paralyzed global markets briefly during the second quarter. Investors worried that bailouts, first to Greece and then Ireland, might not be available in the future if larger economies needed help. As a result, US Treasuries benefitted, though by year end, bond yields began to rise again despite the Fed's further quantitative easing.

Within the bond sector, investment-grade corporate and high yield bonds enjoyed particularly strong returns as the economy slowly recovered. Declining default rates helped improve the overall credit quality of the market and encourage more lending. Emerging markets bonds also enjoyed another solid year despite global economic concerns and a European sovereign debt crisis.

Outlook at May 2011

The U.S. economy is likely to build up momentum in the months ahead. Rising inflation is a concern – with energy, food, and commodities prices putting pressure on consumer spending. The labor market, however, shows signs of improvement. Interest rates are still extremely low and US stock prices are attractive, which bode well for U.S. equities. At some point, the Federal Reserve will move away from its accommodative monetary policy, but it may be some time before it boosts short-term interest rates. We continue to monitor overall economic developments, but our primary focus is on individual companies that we believe can prosper during the next phase of the economic cycle.

DFMS Portfolio Performance

Performance Measures

Actual performance of the DFMS portfolio is compared to the expected return of a benchmark portfolio. The comparison enables us to measure the effect of active management on the Society's Endowment against the return that might have been achieved if all of the assets had been placed in indexed (i.e., unmanaged) accounts. The DFMS benchmark portfolio is a portfolio whose asset mix is identical to the DFMS target portfolio, which is based on a combination of the Russell 3000 all-capitalization index; the Morgan Stanley Capital International All-Country World ex-US (MSCI AC ex-US) Index for international equities; the Barclay Capital Aggregate Bond Index; the Merrill Lynch All Convertibles Index; the National Association of Real Estate Investment Trust Global Property Index; the Hedge Fund Research Institute Fund of Funds Strategic Index; and the JP Morgan Global Government Bond Index.

Performance by Managers

In 2010, the total portfolio increased +15.5% before fees – a performance that substantially outperformed the portfolio's custom benchmark of passive investments by +1.7%. Performance among managers was mixed.

The domestic equity portion of the portfolio rose +20.0%, substantially outperforming the Russell 3000 Index, which rose +16.9%. Small cap managers generally outperformed their benchmarks while large cap managers equaled or slightly lagged their benchmarks.

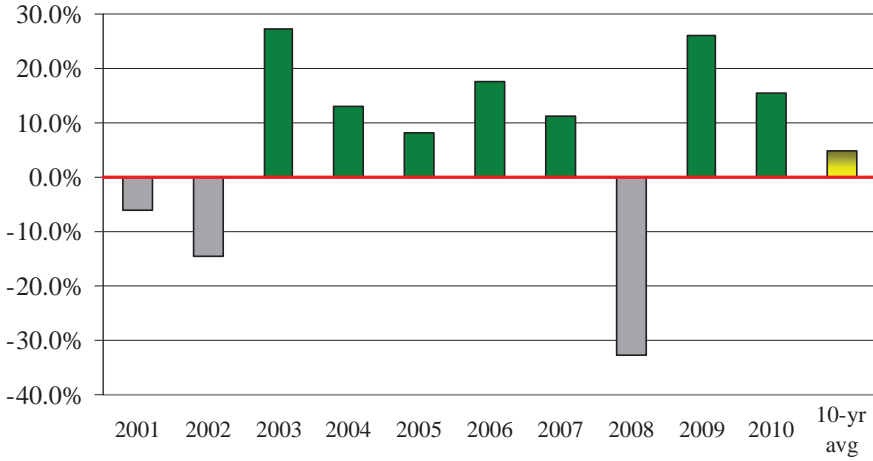

The international equities portfolio rose +8.0%, underperforming its benchmark, the MSCI AC ex-US, which rose +11.6%. An underperforming manager was replaced during the year.

Both bond managers, Western Asset Management and Brandywine Global, achieved double-digit returns, significantly outperforming their benchmarks. Western was up +12.6% vs. +6.5% benchmark; Brandywine up +13.4% vs. a +6.4% benchmark.

The gains achieved during 2010 continue to reinforce our confidence that active management of the portfolio is preferable to passive index funds. Over the past three years, the total fund gained +5.1%, or +1.3% better than the custom passive benchmark while paying out steady dividends of between 5% and 5.5%. During this period, the domestic equity portfolio gained 5.4%, which was significantly above its benchmark Russell 3000, which rose +2.7%.

Endowment Funds Mix

The DFMS Endowment assets consist of three types of funds:

- Funds owned, held and managed by DFMS and benefiting DFMS (Endowment)
- Funds owned, held and managed by DFMS and benefiting other Episcopal/Anglican entities (trustee type)
- Funds held and managed by DFMS but owned by and benefiting other Episcopal/Anglican entities (custodial type)

The table below presents a preliminary analysis of the Endowment portfolio by type.

- ¹ Amounts are based upon the DFMS 2010 preliminary financial statements. The approximately $7 million invested in the three socially-responsible investment programs (see pages 15-17) are not included in this table.
- ² Appreciation on trust fund principal is classified as unrestricted or temporarily restricted based on the provisions of the individual documents of conveyance.
- ³ Permanently restricted net assets represent the original principal and any additions by the donor.
- ⁴ Funds held in a trustee relationship are offset by an equal liability amount on the Society's financial statements.
- ⁵ Custodial trust funds are offset by an equal liability amount on the Society's financial statements. This amount does not include other short-term custodial accounts held and managed by the Society.

PART II: CHARITABLE FUNDS

Pooled Income Funds

There are four individual Pooled Income Funds (PIFs), which total approximately $3.8 million. Of these, the Trustee ECUSA's PIF is approximately $3.7 million with other Episcopal/Anglican entities representing the remaining $57,000. These funds are managed by State Street Bank with an asset allocation of 77.5% in fixed income, 21.7% in equities and 0.80% in cash. Total return of appreciation and income for 2010 was 8.11% (after management fees of 0.85%).

Charitable Trusts

The Society was trustee for 19 charitable trusts, including charitable remainder annuity trusts (CRATs), charitable remainder Unitrusts (CRUTs) and one charitable lead unitrust (CLUT), with a combined market value of $5.4 million. As required by law, each of these trusts is invested and managed as a separate account; their assets are not commingled with those of any other funds or with each other; and each fund is invested in assets consistent with its individual investment goals. The funds are held and managed by State Street Global Advisors.

PART III: SOCIALLY-RESPONSIBLE PROGRAMMATIC INVESTMENTS

The Domestic & Foreign Missionary Society makes direct socially-responsible investments through loans and deposits in various financial intermediaries, including credit unions, community development organizations and minority controlled banks. These investments give consideration both to financial return and programmatic objectives.

Economic Justice Investments

The Economic Justice investments represent DFMS assets which were set aside by Executive Council in November 1989 for socially-responsible fixed-income investments. At year-end 2010, the investments consisted of $2.1 million in Programmatic Investment deposits at credit unions and similar intermediaries; and $3.9 million in loans to community development intermediaries made through the Economic Justice Community Development Loan Fund. Loans are evaluated and made by the Economic Justice Loan Committee in partnership with Opportunity Finance Network (OFN).

Interest earned from these investments is typically below market rates, though an effort is made to achieve rates above the inflation rate in order to safeguard the principal available for future loans. The interest earned in this program flows to the DFMS operating budget. Because some of these loans are structured as interest-only until maturity, some balances in the following table are equal to the original amount of loans not in default. One loan was in default at yearend 2010 but is expected to be paid fully before yearend 2011. [See accompanying tables on pages 16-17]

Bank Deposit Program

The Society also makes direct deposits in minority-controlled banks through the Bank Deposit Program, which consists of $3.0 million designated for placement by the Treasurer's Office in certificates of deposit (CDs) of $100,000 each. Maturities are short (12 months or less). The list of participating banks is revised as necessary in response to changes in Community Reinvestment Act ratings, ownership and/or the business orientation of the institutions, imbalances of the ethnic distribution of the banks in the portfolio and the Society's commitment to place funds in troubled areas.

587.00	Brent, Bishop, Memorial Fund (1947) Gift of, A Special This fund was received from the "Bishop Brent Fund, Inc.," of New York City, as a memorial to Bishop Brent. The original intention was that both the principal and income were to be used for the reconstruction of a cathedral in Manila. The planned cathedral reconstruction project was never undertaken, although the fund's income was reinvested in the principal for over 20 years in anticipation of use as a building fund. The donor organization specified that, in case all or part of the fund were not used in the reconstruction project, the balance would be maintained, as a permanent trust, in memory of Bishop Brent, the income to be applied to the work of the church in that district; since January 1, 1969, the income has been paid to the Diocese of the Central Philippines for the work of the Church. 757.00	Reardon, Ethel A., Lincolnville, ME (1966) Bequest of, A Special Income originally designated for the care and upkeep of former residence, which was to be maintained for the use and benefit of clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church; real estate to be maintained for at least twenty years, or to 1987. The decedent left a house in Maine, and a $15,000 fund for its upkeep; all restrictions on the property and the fund ended in 1987. The upkeep expenses of the property far exceeded the income of the cash fund, and the Society determined to sell the property. The amount realized from the sale was $96,983.84; to that amount was added the market value of the fund, $17,670.52, thus making available $114,653.86 for the use of the Society. A November 1995 Executive Council (board) Resolution provided that $14,653.86 would be kept as a fund to offset expenses of the Chapel of Christ the Lord at 815 Second Avenue; $50,000 would be placed in a new trust fund [No. 972] to finance major purchases needed at the Chapel of Christ the Lord; and the remaining $50,000 would be added to the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief.
