Our Diocese has been a long time supporter of Mni Wiconi protests and education throughout Indian Country. We have offered training in Cultural Considerations in Healthcare Systems, Foster Care providers and adoption programs. We have reached out in conjunction with the Native Ministry Formation Coordinator (Mary Crist) to Sitting Bull College in hopes of offering culturally appropriate Ministry Training and Formation.

Some time ago, the Indigenous Theological Training Institute offered education, theological forums and symposiums as well as published the First People's Theological Journal. General Convention ceased its funding and so ITTI slipped away and with it many opportunities that had provided for culturally relevant resources for Indigenous theological educational events. We worked with seminaries in order to help them to attract and properly serve Native Students. There is currently only one Native Student enrolled in a Seminary. We desperately need a venue for Native Theological Scholarship and intellectual discourse.
